

With the

And the generous support of

SSI – EFIS on Tour Symposium
Immunomodulation - from the lab to the bedside
Venue: SSI Annual Meeting Reykjavík
June 12
13:00 – 17:00

Co-Chairs:

Björn Rúnar Lúðvíksson, SSI – Winfried F. Pickl, EFIS

- 13:00 – 13:10 Welcome – Björn Rúnar Lúðvíksson
About EFIS – Winfried F. Pickl
- 13:10 – 13:40 Dr. Vincenzo Cerullo – ImmunoViroTherapy Lab, IVTLab, University of Helsinki
Dressing up viruses to fool cancer
- 13:40 – 14:10 Dr Sædís Sævarsdóttir – University of Iceland
Personalised medicine: from bench to bedside
- 14:10 – 14:40 Espen Melum – Oslo University Hospital, Rikshospitalet and University of Oslo
Regulation of bile duct inflammation - implications for treatment
- 14:40 – 15:05 Dagbjört Petursdóttir – BD Biosciences
What's New in Flowcytometry
- 15:05 – 15:30 Coffee break
- 15:30 – 16:00 Marieke van Ham – Sanquin Research, Amsterdam
Inverse relationships between SARS-CoV-2-specific B memory subsets and longevity of antibody response after infection
- 16:00 – 16:30 Jenny Persson – Lund University
Unconventional TLR-mediated inflammasome activation in macrophages – relevance for the NRK kinase and the cytokine IL-10
- 16:30 – 17:00 Federica Sallusto – ETH Zürich
One for all: cross-reactive T and B cells in SARS-CoV-2 infection or vaccination
- 17:00 Wrap up